Our Learning

Our topic and information on maths and English will be in the news letter this week.

All the classes have been following a continuous provision approach to the childrens learning.

Continuing with the theme of our new book, Sharing a Shell. PSHRE has been this weeks priority, during the afternoons we have been focusing on turn taking activities such as learning to wait for our turn to ride the bikes and scooters, using visual communication symbols and sand timers.

We have been using the characters from our topic book during sensory play and role play.

Thank you to the parents who visited us for the Learning Together afternoon, the children all did very well to have a change to their routine and we hope you enjoyed the session!
