Our Learning

This week, in English we have been writing our letters to the crayons and making sure that we tell them how sorry we are for how they have been treated in the classroom. In maths, we have been ordering and comparing different lengths using our comparison symbols $>$, $<$ and $=$.

Next week, in English we are going to be learning more about the Commonwealth Games which links in with our Sports Week. We are also going to start thinking about the transition to Year 3. In maths next week, we will be learning about positional language (left, right, forwards, backwards, above, below) through a mixture of practical and written activities.

This week, in RE we have been learning about the importance of prayer to Muslims and how this creates a sense of belonging. Next week in history we will be looking at the changing face of the seaside and the heroic rescue made by Grace Darling.
