Our Learning

This week, the children have written some lovely poems about water. In Maths, we have been learning about position and direction. The children are now able to direct others left, right, forward and backwards. In computing, the children have been continuing to practise using Scratch to do simple coding.

Next week, the children will be spending the afternoon in their new Year 3 classes. You will be sent your child's new class on Friday. In Maths, the children are going to be applying their number and place value knowledge to solve investigations. In English, the children will be continuing to learn about poetry and they will be writing their own poems inspired by 'The Sound Collector'. Next week, the children are going to be making shortbread as part of the D.T curriculum.
